MERRY DEL VAL TO REMAIN IN OFFICE.

Effort to Remove Papal Secretary of State.

France Believes He Is Prejudiced and Compromised.

ROME, Dec. 22.—It having been currently reported that all attempts to reach an understanding with France will be useless if Papal Secretary of State Merry del Val remains in office, it was semi-officially stated today the Pope has determined to retain him, and thus keep his word, given to Merry del Val when he conferred the red hat upon him. On that occasion, the pontiff remarked: "It is pleasant to think that you will be of powerful assistance to us so long as our life lasts."

On the other hand, the enemies of the papal secretary of state claim that France looks upon him as being prejudiced and compromised, and that, as it is impossible to change the Pope, there must be a change in the papal secretary of state, such as occurred under Popes Pius VI and Pius VII, when the secretaries of state were often removed until Cardinal Consalvi was made papal secretary and in 1801 concluded the concordat with Napoleon I.

STEAMERS REPORTED.

CAPE RACE, Newfoundland, Dec. 22.—Steamer Kroonland from Antwerp for New York, was 170 miles southeast of this point at 2:20 a. m. She will probably dock about 5:30 a. m. Tuesday.

LATEST NAVAL NEWS.

Movements of Vessels Reported to the Department Today.

(Special despatch to the News.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The following orders to officers were announced by the Navy Department today:

Lieutenant Commander T. J. Senn, ordered to the Torpedo Station, Newport, R. I.

Lieutenant Commander H. O. Stickney, ordered to the navy yard, Norfolk.

Lieutenant C. Wells, ordered to the naval proving grounds, Indian Head, Md.

Paymaster General R. B. Rogers, appointed paymaster general and chief of the bureau of supplies and accounts.

J. H. Knipp, appointed assistant paymaster.

Boatswain N. S Drake, ordered to the navy yard, New York.

The following movements of naval vessels were reported today to the department:

Sailed—Hopkins, from Charleston for Key West; Connecticut, from Hampton Roads for a cruise; Saturn, from Mare Island for Santa Barbara; Dixie, from Norfolk for Guantanamo; Rocket, from Indian Head for Norfolk; Sandoval, from Norfolk for New York.

Arrived—West Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania, and Maryland at Hong Kong; Des Moines at Guantanamo; Iowa at the New York navy yard, Tacoma at Havana, Eagle at Port Antonio, Brutus at Algiers.

MADE 22 KNOTS AN HOUR.

Cruiser South Dakota Comes Up to Expectations of Builders.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Dec. 22.—With almost ideal conditions of wind and weather prevailing in the Santa Barbara channel, cruiser South Dakota yesterday fully realized the expectations of her builders and naval officers. The mean of her five high speed runs over the measured mile was 22.123 knots an hour, and the highest run was at the rate of 22.753 knots. The South Dakota today will take the endurance test.

CHINA FAMINE GROWING WORSE

Large Numbers Starving and Refugees Poorly Provided For.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Consul General Rodgers, at Shanghai, today cabled the state department as follows:

"Rinangpet famine conditions are daily growing worse. Brigandage and rioting in adjacent districts resulting. Chinese government will probably provide work on a grand canal for the destitute hordes. Immense numbers unquestionably starving. Sickly, afflicted and old left in the famine district. Refugees concentrated in adjacent cities, where are poorly provided for."

NEW BILL AROUSES COMMENT.

Republican Press of Paris Approves and Opposition Organs Denounce.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—The entire Republican press, today, expresses the greatest satisfaction at the adoption yesterday, by the majority of 413 to 165, of the government's bill amending the church and state separation law of 1905. The opposition organs indulge in the most violent denunciation of the new measure. The Figaro likens the government to a "cowardly bandit manufacturing a new engine for oppressing the defenseless, in order to amuse its Jacobins."

A person in close attendance on Cardinal Richard, speaking in the name of the Archbishop of Paris, is quoted as plainly foreshadowing a papal vote of the new legislation, which is classed as "more unsatisfactory than the preceding measures, and nothing more nor less than a law of reprisal." In conclusion, the person quoted remarked that as long as the government declines to negotiate with the Pope a modus vivendi is impossible.

MANAGERS CONFER WITH TRAINMEN.

Possibility of a Tie-up on Eight Roads.

Yardmen Demand Increase of Five Cents an Hour.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Whether or not there will be a general tie-up of Christmas freight in the yards of eight of the big railroads having terminals in the city and Jersey City was dependent upon the outcome of a conference which was held today at the office of the Central Railroad of New Jersey in this city. The eight roads concerned were the Pennsylvania, Erie, Lehigh Valley, Central of New Jersey, Long Island, Baltimore & Ohio, Lackawanna & Staten Island Rapid Transit. The yardmen employed on these roads gave the managers until today to decide whether or not to grant them an increase of five cents an hour. Most of the roads had agreed to an increase of four cents an hour.

Although the railroad officials admitted today that the situation seemed acute, there was no talk of yielding on either side before the conference, although P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the railroad trainmen, had said that there was no reason to suppose that the men would strike. Mr. Morrissey conferred with the managers today. A strike on the eve of the Christmas holidays would inflict a great hardship on the people of this city, and also upon those of other cities to and from whom freight is passing through New York between Eastern and Western points.

Those present at the conference today were Grand Master P. H. Morrissey, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Fourth Vice President James Murdock, of the brotherhood, together with the grievance committee of the yard crews employed in the Erie, Pennsylvania & Central Railroad of New Jersey, Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Staten Island and Baltimore & Ohio railroads in the New York harbor districts, with the members of the General Managers' Association, Michael J. Reagan, industrial mediator of the state department of labor and J. J. Healin of the same office.

During the afternoon all the indications pointed to a prolonged session of the conference. A messenger was sent out about 1:30 o'clock to order that luncheon be sent to the conference room.

CAPTAIN MACKLIN CONSCIOUS.

Physicians Believe He Will Recover From Effects of Wound.

RENO, Okla., Dec. 22.—Captain Edgar B. Macklin, of Company C, Twenty-fifth Infantry, who was shot at his home here late last night, was conscious this morning, and physicians at the hospital expressed the belief that he would recover.

No trace of the would-be assassin, who is believed to be one of the negro soldiers recently discharged on order of President Roosevelt, has been found. Samuel Hartelt, a detective, arrived here early today from Oklahoma City with bloodhounds, which he placed upon the trail of the negro. Captain Macklin says positively that the man who shot him was a negro. He says he knows of no cause for the assault.

Captain Macklin continues to improve. Officers of the fort express no opinion as to whether or not the negro who attacked Captain Macklin was one of the soldiers recently discharged by order of President Roosevelt.

NEW YORK IN DARKNESS.

Harbor Traffic Moves Slowly Because of Fog and Smoke.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Under a dense pall of fog and smoke, traffic in New York harbor moved slowly and cautiously this morning. The fog itself was not unusually dense until it became burdened with an accumulation of smoke shortly after 9 o'clock. For half an hour it was almost as dark as night in the down town section of the city, and lights were burning in every office in the tall buildings in the financial district. Before 10 o'clock a slight breeze from the west lightened the pall which overhung the city and traffic moved more freely.

IT WILL BE "A Merry Christmas." At any rate, we have prepared to make it merry for all our customers by offering them the choicest Turkeys that can be picked from the farmyard. Why not make merry by living well and insuring yourself of the right kind of meats for the Christmas breakfast, dinner and supper?

This Morning's News.

NO HOLIDAY ON MONDAY.

Cotton Mill Operatives of New Bedford Must Work.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 21.—Monday will not be a holiday for the mill operatives of New Bedford. This conclusion has been reached by the manufacturers, who in a communication to J. W. Tennant, secretary of the New Bedford Textile Council, decline to grant the request that the Monday prior to Christmas be given the employes. They say that it would not be justice to the many who wished to work, and cite the criticism of a former compliance with the same request.

In the agitation for the Monday holiday there has been more or less talk on the part of business men, and it is claimed that the general impression is that it is unedited for. The shutting down of all the mills in the city for a single day means the loss in wages to the operatives of between $35,000 and $10,000.

BEST RIFLE SHOT IN ARMY.

First Sergeant Martin B. Dunbar of Fourth Infantry.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—First Sergeant Martin B. Dunbar, Company E, Fourth Infantry, is the best rifle shot in the army, according to an official announcement made at the War Department today, giving the results of the several small arms competitions of the army for 1906. His aggregate score was 821. The next best was Sergeant James A. Landers, Company N, Twelfth Infantry, whose score was 820.

The winner of the first prize among the commissioned officers was Captain Frederick C. Stritzinger, Twenty-second Infantry, whose score was 802. First Lieutenant Bruce Palmer, Tenth cavalry, had the next best record, with a score of 792.

The best pistol shot is Captain James A. Cole, Sixth cavalry, who made a score of 287. The next best is Corporal Oscar H. Robinson, Troop D, Ninth cavalry (colored). Captain A. J. MacNab, Twenty-seventh infantry, was the second best shot among the commissioned officers and Corporal Horace Jefferson, troop B, Ninth cavalry the second best among the enlisted men.

QUESTION OF STEAM TURBINE.

Most Important Engineering Problem of the Present Day.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The most important engineering problem of the present day affecting marine propulsion, in the opinion of Rear Admiral C. W. Rae, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, whose annual report was made public today, is that of the steam turbine. Involving as it does such a radical change, Admiral Rae says the bureau has pursued a conservative course with regard to it, preferring to wait before adopting it extensively until it had been demonstrated as unquestionably the best system of propulsion for naval purposes. "At the same time," he says, "tests and experiments have been made whenever the opportunity offered, and extensive investigations of the question have been carried on." It is expected that when the three scout cruisers now being built, two with turbine and one with reciprocating engines, are completed, and their trials have been held, comparative data of the utmost value will be obtained. An officer of the bureau is now abroad, making a thorough investigation of marine turbine installations already in operation and in contemplation.

PLENTY OF CARS AVAILABLE.

The Danger of Distress from Lack of Fuel Said to be Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The following is the text of a letter to the President, dated Minneapolis, December 19, from interstate commerce commissioner Franklin K. Lane, who is investigating the car shortage situation in the Northwest, which was made public at the White House today:

"The enclosed clippings will give you a fairly correct idea of the fuel and car situation conditions in the northwest. Mr. Harlan and myself, on arriving, sent telegrams to every town in North Dakota, asking if they needed coal. The answers show little present suffering, but a most dismal outlook. We then called the railroad officials before us, and they promised to carry coal to all distressed points. This noon we wired back to all the towns. As there are plenty of our cars now available for handling, I think the danger of distress from lack of fuel may be said to be passed. It takes a grain car on the average 10 days to cover 250 miles.—Great Northern railroad."

MAKE CHANGES IN LAW.

Connecticut Commission Reports on Corrupt Practices Statute.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 21.—The commission appointed by the General Assembly, to study the existing laws relating to primaries and the laws prohibiting corrupt practices at elections and to report to the General Assembly of 1907 such measures as are required to secure fair nominations and elections, is reported to have agreed upon a change in the existing corrupt practices law, and to have drawn a conservative direct primary act with which to begin the experiment of direct nomination.

Among the recommendations, which it is said the commission will make, is one forbidding corporations and all judges, except judges of probate, to contribute to political funds. Judges of probate are excepted because they are elective officers. Another recommendation carries the law requiring returns in the form of sworn statements back of candidates for election to candidates for nomination.

A specific punishment is provided for the failure of a treasurer or political agent to file their statements within the required time, and another recommendation is that the offering as well as the receiving of bribes be prohibited by the act.

OIL TRUST WILL CONTINUE.

General Counsel of Company Denies Dissolution is Contemplated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—M. F. Elliott, general counsel for the Standard Oil Company, said today that he had not decided whether or not to present further testimony in the Missouri case against the company. The case would not be closed, he said, until January 1, and he would determine the advisability of calling further witnesses after an examination of the testimony already in.

Mr. Elliott denied emphatically a report that there was in contemplation a dissolution of the parent company, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and a division of the stocks of the various subsidiaries among the holders of stock in the dominant company.

"Absolutely no change," he said, "is contemplated in the organization of any subsidiary, in the relations of any subsidiary to the dominant company or in the organization of the dominant company."

BRYCE ADMITS APPOINTMENT.

Did Not Deny That This Was His Last Day in Parliament.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The appointment of James Bryce, to be ambassador at Washington, in succession to Sir Mortimer Durand, is now admitted by Mr. Bryce himself.

During the closing session of Parliament today the chief secretary for Ireland (Mr. Bryce) refrained from making any specific statement regarding the reports in circulation, but, repeatedly questioned by his colleagues, he finally did not deny that this was his last day in Parliament. Mr. Bryce was requested to make a statement for publication, but, through his secretary, he declined to do so.

SCOTTISH CHURCH BURNED.

Building in Which President Roosevelt's Ancestors Worshipped.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 21.—The parish church at Paldernock, where President Roosevelt's maternal ancestors, the Stobos and Bulloeks, worshipped in by-gone days, was burned this morning. This small pre-reformation church, six miles north of Glasgow, was of unique construction, with an outside stair leading to a loft and watch towers, in which guards were posted to watch over the dead in the resurrectionist times.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE STRIKE.

All the Postoffices of Austria and Their Employes Involved.

VIENNA, Dec. 21.—A "passive resistance" strike, involving all the postoffices of Austria and 25,000 employes, men and women, began today as a protest against the conditions under which they are compelled to labor. By "passive resistance" the employes are enabled to paralyze the mail service without contravention of the rules. The men have been trying for years to secure an increase of their inadequate pay, which begins at about 15 cents per day and rises to a maximum of 50 cents, after 40 or 50 years' service.

NUMBER LIMITED TO 180.

Life Members of Hungarian House Appointable by Crown.

VIENNA, Dec. 21.—The upper house of Parliament today adopted the bill introduced December 14, limiting to 180 the number of life members of that House appointable by the crown. The passage of the bill does away with the possibility of appointment of a limited number of peers to compel the upper house to pass the universal suffrage bill.

PARTLY DUE TO KING GEORGE.

Union of Crete With Greece Intimated to be Drawing Near.

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 21.—During a debate in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday Premier Theotokis intimated that the union of Crete with Greece was drawing nearer.

"As the result of steps taken by King George," the premier said, "on the initiative of the powerful sovereign of a great power, and with the good will of the four protecting powers, the Cretan question has reached a solution which must be regarded as a great step towards the union of the island with Greece. The active policy of M. Zaimis, the new high commissioner, which is approved by the Greek government, gives reason to hope that the desired solution is not far off, and that we shall soon be able to greet the representatives of Crete in this chamber."

The sovereign mentioned by M. Theotokis is believed to be the Russian emperor.

HOLIDAY TRADE BRISK.

Good Movement of Staple Merchandise Also.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that holiday trade continues a conspicuous feature, but there is a good movement of staple merchandise. Boston reports mills and factories busy, more advances in wages going into effect January 1, and retail trade far in advance of previous years. Clothing manufacturers have liberal orders for spring and retailers report a good fall trade. Jewelry sales are large at wholesale.

Bank clearings this week at all leading cities in the United States were $3,618,165,939, an increase of 2.4 per cent.

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER.

Spending Immense Sums for Improvement of Metropolis

Multi-Millionaires Building Lakes—Movement to Preserve Revolutionary Landmarks Along Palisades.

[New York Correspondence of the News.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Is New York tunnel mad? Has some new microbe lurking in the subway infected the whole city with a desire for underground travel? Certain it is that never before has such a stream of gold been poured forth for underground burrowings. On three sides of the city human moles are madly digging on new tunnels at a cost which is almost staggering, totaling not millions, but hundreds of millions. The Pennsylvania tunnels will cost $125,000,000. Then there is the Cortland street tunnel on which $10,000,000 will be expended, the Morton street tunnel costing $16,000,000, the Battery tunnel at a mere $8,000,000, and the Steinway tunnel at $5,500,000. In fact, there should be tunnels enough for all at prices to meet any pocket book. When they are completed, New York will lay claim to the title of the greatest tunnel city in the world.

But it is not only in underground work that the city is spending millions. Altogether $1,000,000,000 is being invested in improvements, a fact which naturally causes Father Knickerbocker to be much interested in things financial. The General Electric Company is spending $20,000,000 on an extension, the New Haven railroad $10,000,000 for electrification, the New York Central $90,000,000 on various improvements, including the rebuilding of the Grand Central station, and the Western Union $10,000,000. More millions invested in improvements in near-by territory swell the total to the billion mark, at which point even New York will have to stop for breath.

In addition to the "Chimney" New York is to have another characteristically named building, for the new structure at the corner of Wall street and Broadway has already been christened the "Chimney." As in the case of the "Flatiron," the owners selected a conventional name but the new one has already superseded it. The "Chimney" very evidently deserves its name. For its height it is the slenderest building in New York the piece of ground on which it stands being almost minute, and as it is built of brick it preserves the simile to a striking degree as it towers into the air like a gigantic chimney. Through it, say those who have suffered, will ascend the smoke of the money wich is burned in the street every day.

Wall street indeed is undergoing a metamorphosis. Once the fashionable street of little old New York, when the city was little but not old, it promises soon to become lined with skyscrapers, which it has so far fairly well escaped. In addition to the "Chimney," only a block or two away, the new 25-story building of the Trust Company of America is nearing completion. Besides being the tallest building in the district it will contain the handsomest and most up-to-date banking rooms in New York, which of course means in the whole United States. Curiously enough the Trust Company's new home stands on the site of the original stock exchange, obliterating, as it were, one more reminder of days gone by.

Building lakes seems to be the latest diversion of our multi-millionaires, and in some respects no doubt it is a satisfactory avocation for a man of plethoric bank account, possessing as it does limitless possibilities in the way of expenditure. Following upon the heels of Andrew Carnegie's gift of a lake to Princeton, comes the announcement that John D. Rockefeller has constructed a private sluice of water at Lakewood whereupon he will disport himself during the winter at his favorite outdoor pastime of skating.

Cynical persons along Broadway have suggested that the great architect of Standard Oil is planning to get in training to outsprint the numerous process-servers who are continually being set upon his trail by unkind public prosecutors, but this seems to be belied by the fact that Marshal Henkel was welcomed by Mr. Rockefeller almost with enthusiasm when he visited the latter bearing an official paper during the past week. In fact, so captivated was Marshal "Bill" by his kindly reception that he has been singing the praises of Jon D. ever since, declaring that he is a "perfect gent" in every sense of the word.

The Tenderloin is awaiting with considerable interest the attempt of a former bar-keeper named Reed to consume 1,333,333 drinks, or $200,000 worth. Of course he isn't going to do it all at one sitting, but he has promised to attempt the task, even though it does appear to be something of an undertaking. As soon as he has finished it he will go back to his trade of mixing drinks for other people.

The whole situation arises from an unexpected inheritance of $200,000 which came to Reed just at the time when he began to feel that after years of mixing drinks he ought to have a chance to consume some himself—about as many as he had sadly watched disappearing down the throats of others on the opposite side of the bar. Long and careful calculations revealed the fact that the legacy would purchase a million and a third of drinks, which Reed thinks about the right number. Accordingly he has laid aside his white apron and his shaker to see the drink problem from the other side, announcing, however, that when his money is gone he will return to his old trade with a chastened thirst.

Naturally the Tenderloin is wondering where he will spend his money. Tom Sharkey, it is rumored, with an eye on the main chance, has offered Reed in return for his $200,000 all the drinks which he can consume during his life time, but none at all for his friends. The same rumor has it, however, that the sailor-pugilist's offer was turned down as too generous. Besides that, Reed doesn't want to spend all his money in one place.

A movement which will embrace the whole state is now being formed among a number of historic and patriotic societies, with the support of those persons who have already contributed to the building of the Palisades park, to create a reservation embracing all of the points of scenic beauty and historic interest along the shores of the lower Hudson. So much public interest has been elicited by the endeavors of the Palisade Park Commission and its friends to oust the quarrymen from Hook mountain and to hasten the completion of the plans for the greater Interstate Palisades park, that other persons having interest in historic sites and scenic points not embraced in the Palisade park territory have been encouraged to present their interests to the public, with the result that a considerable support is growing.

There has been some talk of appealing to the federal government, but this plan is not generally accepted, the feeling being that New Yorkers should do for themselves what needs doing. The phone is beginning to realize now that while much has been done in the way of preserving sites of Civil war battles, almost nothing has been done, except by a few patriotic societies, towards preserving Revolutionary landmarks and battlefields which are so numerous, both in New York state and New Jersey, adjacent to the valley of the Hudson.

The cosmopolitan character of New York's population may be gathered from the headlines in any issue of the daily papers. Just at present readers are regaled with the war of East Side housewives on the "Kosher meat trust," religious strife among the Bohemian contingent, a dramatic controversy in the French colony, a suit brought against a wealthy Irish family for the expenses of a wake, a sensational Italian murder and charges of police prosecution brought by the Greek pushcart peddlers. Tomorrow the Chinese, the Syrians, the Germans and the Turks may be to the fore. New York may easily dispute with Cairo the right to be known the modern Babel.

Longacre.

PERSONALS.

...At Warsaw, Ind., Elijah Hays—now 87—has given $100,000 for Methodist missions and gone into a home for the aged.

....One hundred thousand francs have been distributed by the Rothschild brothers among the 20 wards of Paris. This money, which has been deposited at the Mairies of the Arrondissements, or wards, is intended for assistance to the poor in paying their rent during the coming year.

....Ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster will be one of the delegates for the Chinese government to the second peace conference at The Hague, which will probably convene some time next year. Mr. Foster has long been in close touch with the Chinese government and was one of the advisers of the mission to Japan, which ended the war between China and Japan.

....The Earl and Countess of Tankerville have been holding crowded religious meetings in Shropshire, England. Both are much interested in this kind of work. The countess was Miss Leonora Van Marter, an American girl, and the earl spent much of his youth in this country. He is an energetic member of the House of Lords and like his wife, a great lover of art.

....Hugh H. Hanna of Indianapolis, widely known as a publicist, has been elected president of the council of 21 members of the Presbyterian Brotherhood of America, at a meeting held in Chicago. The council, which consists of a number of the most influential laymen of the Presbyterian Church, also adopted a constitution for the brotherhood, which will be published after the holidays.

....There are three women on the pension rolls of the government who are daughters of Revolutionary soldiers. They are Rhoda Augusta Thompson of Woodbury, Conn.; Phoebe M. Palmeter of Tallette, N. Y., each 85 years old, and Mrs. Sarah C. Hurlbutt of Little March, Pa., 88 years old. The widows of soldiers of the War of 1812 who draw pensions from the government number 609.

....The President announces the acceptance by John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, as a representative of labor, and Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, as a representative of capital, of the positions tendered by the President as members of the board of trustees to whom he will convey the amount of the Nobell peace prize.

....G. F. King, a well known business man of Rochester, N. Y., appealed to Governor Mickey of Nebraska, to permit him to take the place of his brother, who is a convict in the Nebraska penitentiary, while his brother goes home to see his sick mother. The governor pardoned young King, who at once started for Rochester. King, who left home five years ago, was sent to prison for robbery. He kept his whereabouts secret until he became ill with consumption, when he wrote to his brother and found his mother probably fatally ill.

Small Feather Turbans.

Among the pretty imported novelties for this season the small feather turbans stand out most attractively. In form and color there is infinite variety to choose from. Pretty ones in white, several shades of blue, from the faintest claire de lune, or moonlight blue, down the scale to the rich, deep, plum-blue tones; all of the pinks and rose shadings, some charming yellows; to say nothing of the iridescent greens and browns, the feather toque and turban is sure of a most enthusiastic acceptance. Just whatever tint best suits one's hair, eyes and complexion will assuredly be found among the feather chapeaux that Paris has sent over in such quantity.

While those fascinating little hats may be worn just as one finds them on the counter—plus a lining, of course—still, there is more of an individual air about them when a touch of trimming is added. A pale flamingo pink toque with wings at either side shading from a rose to the faintest shell pink, is made to suit the face better by the addition of a huge chou of velvet loops, a tint that serves to enhance the complexion being used. There is a fair-sized bandeau in the back, covered with the feathers, but a ruche of mallinette, with velvet ribbon loops caught in here and there, is further supplied, in order to give the little hat as much style as possible without at all interfering with its trim and trig lines.

FRANCE ADOPTS NEW LAW.

Premier Clemenceau Upheld by an Overwhelming Majority.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—The Chamber of Deputies today showed in no uncertain way that it strongly endorses Premier Clemenceau's position in his struggle with the Vatican, and adopted the new religious measure promptly, by the overwhelming majority of 418 to 136.

Premier Clemenceau did not participate in the debate. The attitude taken by Minister of Education Briand made a great impression, especially his statement that the government never intended to close the churches or interfere with the individual conscience, as this would permit the clergy to assume the attitude of being persecuted.

The cabinet, the minister explained, had decided to retain the formality of making a declaration to hold meetings because it was resolved not to capitulate to the Vatican, which was acting contrary to French law.

There was a large number of spectators in the chamber, including many women. The debates were marked neither by flights of oratory nor by acrimony, but the speeches were characterized by earnestness of expression. There were some derisive interruptions, but no hot blood was shown.

The government majority was kept intact, despite the rumors of the last few days that there were defections in the Radical ranks and among the other Socialist elements. Toward the end of the afternoon it was believed that the general debate would continue through tomorrow, but when at the ordinary hour of adjournment, an attempt was made to defeat further discussion until tomorrow it was voted down and the chamber resolved to proceed forthwith to consideration of the articles of the law.

The first article was promptly adopted, after an amendment by M. Benneway, Progressive Republican, had been rejected. The chamber then, by a vote of 377 to 118, determined to continue its examination of the articles this evening.

M. Lasies of the anti-Semite plebiscite, speaking for himself and his friends, said he could not co-operate in the elaboration of the law, which was an injurious provocation to Catholics and a violation of their consciences. M. Lasies read his speech, which led M. Coutant, Revolutionary Socialist, to call out: "It is the Pope who sent that paper."

The chamber did not rise until the final vote was taken. The sitting lasted seven hours without intermission. Various amendments were voted down and the bill was adopted in its entirety, with only minor changes, not affecting the principal provisions, by a vote of 413 to 136.

The Chamber adjourned until next Friday.

THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

And now, at last, the tumult stops;
The heelers and the thugs depart.
The candidate his forehead mops
And calms his palpitating heart.
He is elected, his the fight;
The opposition has been flayed,
But what of wrongs that he would right?
What of the promises he's made?
My worthy friends, keep at him yet,
Lest he forget, lest he forget.

The two and two that once made four,
With his assistance will make eight.
He'll do away with sails of yore
And run by steam the ship of state.
At least, he promised that he would,
And unto you I now appeal
To strictly see that he makes good
And holds his nose against the wheel.
We'll have to watch him well, you bet,
Lest he forget, lest he forget!

TEN PAGES.

AS TO THE NEGRO SOLDIERS.

There is a common notion that there is something fine in the refusal of the negro soldiers who did not participate in the rioting at Brownsville to tell of their comrades who are guilty, and that it is an injustice to punish them for not telling what possibly they do not know, and what, at any rate, honor forbids their telling.

Are the obligations of honor different in the cases of soldiers and of civilians? We know that schoolboys will not tell tales on each other; they have a code of honor which forbids it. But we also know that they are immature; that they live in a world of their own because they are too young to enter the larger world, but that as they grow up they will find that their obligations are not to their immediate associates but to society in general. We know that every adult civilian is under stern moral and legal obligations to tell what he knows about a lawless act. If he won't tell we punish him. It would be impossible to execute the criminal laws if every man was allowed to plead that his sense of honor forbade his telling on another man. Are soldiers children or men? If the former they ought not to be trusted with firearms. If the latter they must testify against each other, as civilians must.

This country has always been jealous of a standing army. The professional soldier, armed in peace, was an object of grave suspicion to our progenitors. We have overcome that feeling, because we have found him harmless. But this confidence in him is shaken by the action of the soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry. It has been shaken by several other cases of riotous conduct on the part of soldiers, the latest being just reported from Fort Barrancas, where white soldiers are said to have fired on a street car conductor with whom one of them had had an altercation about his fare. This country will not stand armed men unless they are orderly and under discipline. Cities have asked that military posts should be located near them, but they will protest against anything of the sort if discipline cannot be maintained over men who constitute a class apart from the rest of the community and have weapons.

TRAINING FOR DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

At last something definite is being done toward the training of young men for diplomatic service. The absence of such training and of opportunities for acquiring it in this country has long been deplored by men familiar with the conditions as compared with those which exist abroad, and the consequent disadvantage under which those who represent our country at foreign stations test as contrasted with the trained men who are chosen for this important work by other national governments. English and German universities have for many years made the training of diplomats a not insignificant part of their work, but this country up to the present time has paid practically no attention to this matter with not altogether favorable results.

It is true that the diplomatic service has not been crowded in America as it is wont to be sought and for which to receive training. Appointments to positions under this department have been made after a somewhat haphazard fashion and with not a little of partisan pressure of influence behind them, rather than because the men named were best fitted by temperament and training to perform the exacting duties which fall to the lot of those who represent this country in other lands. But it is not too much to predict that the time is coming when young men will look forward to a diplomatic career as naturally as they now do to one of the ordinary professions, and will expect and be required to prepare themselves for such special service just as though they were to practice law or medicine or preach the gospel.

Columbia University has taken the lead among American colleges in instituting a department of diplomatic training as a portion of its curriculum, and this new departure will undoubtedly lead to the same action by other higher institutions of learning throughout the country. Columbia does not expect in its new course to prepare students fully for the many, varied and peculiar duties of the diplomatic service, but simply at first at least to provide lines of study calculated to fit those who pursue them for positions as representatives of the government in foreign fields.

Of course such special training as is embodied in the new plan at Columbia will be quite useless unless different methods are employed in the appointment of diplomats from those which have hitherto obtained. Political preference must give place to personal fitness and party reward must not be more prominent than careful preparation. The present practice is by no means the best and ought long since to have become obsolete. There was, however, some excuse for its continuance so long as men specially trained for diplomatic service were not available, but when such men can be found, prepared to undertake the delicate tasks which must be performed in that service, it would be folly for them to be overlooked and these appointed whose only claim was one of party service. It will be a good day for the government of the United States when this change can be made.

It is of course not to be understood that this government has been even generally speaking unworthily represented abroad, but that this has not been so is a matter more of good fortune than of wise provision. It has indeed been remarkable that the character of our diplomatic representatives has been so high and their ability so great, in view of the manner in which these appointments have been made and the lack of system in the supply of foreign representatives. But with adequate means for training men for this work such a system will be installed and a supply of good material will be always available, and that is just the condition which is needed.

CURRENCY REFORM.

It would be premature to predict the enactment of a currency reform law at this session, but it is encouraging that the House committee on banking and currency has decided to make a favorable report on a bill similar to that recommended by the bankers' commission. In fact, it is represented to be that bill with certain minor changes.

So far as the measure proposed by the commission erred or fell short of what the best financial authorities desired, it was through excessive conservatism, the result of compromises between members who dashed to go a good ways and others who were afraid to go at all. The committee's bill is reported to be still more conservative. For example, the commission proposed a system of redemption of bank notes which would be an effective preventive of inflation, as is proved by the present Canadian system and the "Suffolk Bank System" in Boston half a century ago. Yet the commission had so little faith in the redemption system, or believed Congress and the public would have so little faith in it, that it proposed a 5½ per cent tax on the larger part of the additional circulation and a 5 per cent tax on a possible further addition, in order to drive the notes back to the issuing banks when the commercial need of them had passed. The committee reduces the amount of additional circulation which can be issued and raises the 5½ per cent tax to 3 per cent.

Excessively cautious as is this bill to release the bank circulation in a small degree from subserviency to the price of government bonds yet it would probably answer the purpose. It would make it worth while for the banks to supply additional circulation when the usual autumnal stringency began to be felt, and there is no doubt that the notes would retire when no longer needed. They do that in Canada, with none of the taxes and safeguards which our currency doctors seem to think are indispensable.

STILL ANOTHER MESSAGE.

President Roosevelt, after a record-breaking week, has yet another message to send to Congress. This, however, will not be until after the holidays. It will deal with the subject of immigration, and contain the reports of former Commissioner General of Immigration Terence V. Powderly, who was sent to Europe to make an inquiry with a view to ascertaining the causes which incite the movement of 1,000,000 or more aliens to the shores of the United States every year, and of Commissioner of Labor Charles P. Neill and Special Investigator James B. Reynolds, who have made observations at New York and other large cities to determine the influence on the social life of the country through the influx of this large annual addition to the population of the United States. It is believed that as a result of these investigations President Roosevelt will recommend that numerically immigration must be checked, but whether he will advise a educational test or an increased tax is not known.

The Postoffice Department is still run at a loss, but during the last fiscal year the deficit was reduced from about $11,000,000 to $10,000,000, or 27.87 per cent, the total receipts from all sources showing an increase of more than $10,000,000 over that of 1905, the greatest increase in any year in the history of the department. Nearly 800,000,000 stamps were sold during the year, a gain of 10 per cent over the previous year. The postal department, if this proportionate increase is maintained, will become self-supporting in a few years.

The popular movement for a monument in Central Park, New York, to Joseph Jefferson has resulted in the collection of a $100,000 fund, double the amount which it was originally intended to raise, and now the design is to be selected at once. There ought not to be any difficulty about the design. Jefferson was best known for his delineation of Rip Van Winkle and the monument should show him in that character. It was essentially a part of Jefferson's life.

The city of Providence received a total revenue the past year from the street railway, gas, electric lighting and telephone companies which have franchises for the use of the streets of nearly $1,000,000, of which the street railway company paid one half, the city by law receiving five per cent of the gross receipts.

One Senator and ten Congressmen are not satisfied with President Roosevelt's story of the work on the Panama canal and have started for Colon, for the purpose of making a five days' trip through the isthmus, to learn for themselves the condition of things relative to the digging of the canal.

The appointment of James Bryce as ambassador to the United States which is now acknowledged to have been decided upon, is entirely acceptable to this country.

The deed of a $600,000 mansion in New York, which J. Pierpont Morgan has made to his son, is good enough for a Christmas or any other kind of gift.

METEORITE FOUND IN A HAYFIELD.

The largest entire stone meteorite ever found, according to Professor Hovey, of the museum, is now on exhibition in the Museum of Natural History, New York. It was found March 26 in a hayfield about two miles from Selma, Ala., by J. W. Coleman. It is 20½ inches high, 20 inches wide and 14 inches thick, and weighs 1306 pounds. In shape it is roughly polygonal.

Professor Hovey says that most aerolites break to pieces while passing through the earth's atmosphere, probably on account of unequal heating due to friction. The meteorite had evidently lain embedded where it fell since 1868. July 20 of that year several people, living in the vicinity heard a rumbling noise and saw a flaming mass shooting toward the earth.

The usher of the Chamber of Deputies of Brussels bought lately for a trifling price an old picture of priests playing cards. The newspapers say that it has now been discovered that the painting is the work of Rembrandt. The owner has received an offer of $60,000 for the picture.

Town Councils Decline to Close Saloons Christmas.

Forefathers' Day Celebrated in Providence—Ordained to the Priesthood.

The efforts of Rev. A. B. Cristy, superintendent of the Rhode Island Temperance League, to have the councils of the towns immediately adjoining Providence take steps to compel the closing of the liquor saloons on Christmas day, have not met with the success he hoped. After the passage of the closing order by the police commissioners of Providence, Rev. Mr. Cristy made efforts to have East Providence, Cranston, Johnston and other nearby towns close the saloons. In East Providence he found that the saloon keepers had voluntarily agreed to close at 2 o'clock on that day. He called upon Colonel Frank W. Tillinghast of Johnston and Colonel Zenas W. Bliss, president of the Cranston town council. When the matter was proposed to the former town it was decided not to take any action, as it was not deemed advisable to pass such an ordinance. The authorities of Cranston preferred to wait to see what action would be taken by the town of Johnston before they did anything, and in consequence of the decision of the latter town Cranston has done nothing toward the closing of the saloons. Mr. Cristy has made an appeal to the license commissioners of East Greenwich, but has not yet received any reply. It is his intention, however, to continue the agitation or this closing movement in the hope that favorable results may be the outcome. Aside from the benefit which he believes will accrue to the several towns and the state in general by ordering the saloons closed on Christmas, Mr. Cristy feels that the point raised by the Providence dealers, that the closing of their places of business will simply result in sending their customers across the line to the saloons in the adjoining towns, is well taken.

Following established custom, the Rhode Island Society of the Mayflower Descendants celebrated Forefathers' day yesterday at the rooms of the Rhode Island Historical Society in Providence. Deputy Governor Charles H. Warren presided, Hugo B. Kenyon played a violin solo. Mr. Warren then traced briefly the history of the local organization, and said that for the 4th time members had the privilege of meeting to celebrate the landing at Plymouth of the devoted band in whose memory the society was formed. He then presented as the speaker Rev. Samuel M. Crothers of Cambridge, Mass. Dr. Crothers in his address divided all Americans into two great classes, those who are descendants of the band who came to this country in the Mayflower and those who wish they were, confessing that he belonged to this great outer class. Mr. Kenyon gave another violin solo. This concluded the formal program and refreshments were served.

With the formalities and ceremony of the Protestant Episcopal Church Rev. Frederick E. Seymore of the Church of the Ascension of Wakefield and Rev. Frederick H. Miller of Calvary Church of Pascoag were ordained to the Episcopal priesthood by Bishop William N. McVickar at St. John's Church, Providence, yesterday. The two men have been clergymen under the rules of the Episcopal Church, having cared for their pastorates under deacons' orders. Rev. Frederick H. Seymore has been in charge of the Church of the Ascension at Wakefield two years. He is a graduate of the divinity school of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Philadelphia. His work at the Wakefield church has been successful. Rev. Frederick H. Miller, the other new priest, has been at Calvary Church at Pascoag about a year. He is a graduate of the Cambridge Divinity School. According to the rules of the church, Mr. Seymore was presented by Rev. Marion Law of Pawtucket, and Mr. Miller by Rev. Lester Bradner, rector of St. John's.

William F. Livsey, who had been for many years leader of the Hedly-Livsey Band, of Providence, died yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. For a quarter of a century, although comparatively a young man, Mr. Livsey had been one of the most prominent band men in the state. He was born in East Greenwich 46 years ago, a son of Joseph Livsey, and when a little more than 13 years old began his musical career as a player in the Kent Cornet Band. Mr. Livsey's musical ability as a boy was such that he became the leader of the band when only 15 years old. His skill as a cornetist attracted the attention of Thomas W. Hedly, leader of the National Band of Providence, an organization which was a rival of the American Band in popular favor throughout New England. Mr. Livsey was induced to join the National Band before he had attained his majority and after Thomas W. Hedly died Mr. Livsey succeeded him in the leadership and business management. The organization became known as the Hedly-Livsey Band and recently adopted the title of the First Regiment Band. Mr. Livsey was popular among the band men in the several organizations throughout the state. He and Bowen St. Church began their careers as cornet players in East Greenwich together and attained prominence in Providence band circles simultaneously.

REDWOOD LODGE.

Election of Officers, Visit of Grand Chancellor, Supper and Speeches.

Redwood Lodge, No. 11, Knights of Pythias, had a busy evening last night, including the annual election of officers, the visitation of the grand chancellor and his staff and a supper with speeches. The election took place in the early part of the evening and resulted as follows:

Chancellor Commander—David Davis
Vice Chancellor—John William Schwarz.
Prelate—Frederick A. C. Stuart.
Master of Work—William Linahan
Keeper of Records and Seals—Robert S. Franklin.
Master of Exchecquer—Everett I. Gorton.
Master of Finance—James C. Walsh.
Master-at-Arms—James H. Hampton.
Outer Guard—J. Gottlieb Spingler.
Trustees—Everett I. Gorton, William H. Langley, William Champion.

The newly-elected officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

The official visitation was made by Grand Chancellor Ernest C. Scott, who was accompanied by Grand Vice Chancellor Robert W. Syddall, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals William A. Wilson, Senior Supreme Representative Fred E. Phillips, Junior Supreme Representative John A. Bowen, Deputy Grand Chancellors Clark H. Straight and Thomas Lucas and Past Grand Chancellor William H. Langley. After the formal work, which included the third degree for three candidates, the grand chancellor spoke on matters relating to the order and presented to Past Grand Chancellor Langley the gavel, suitably inscribed, which the latter had used during his term of office in presiding over the Grand Lodge session.

After the meeting the members of Redwood Lodge, the grand officers and a number of visiting Pythians, who included one from Nashville, Tenn., went to the Perry House, where Proprietor Wiswell provided an excellent supper. After this Chancellor Commander William Champion welcomed the guests and introduced Hon. Robert S. Franklin as toastmaster for the postprandial exercises. Brief addresses were made by Grand Chancellor Scott, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals Wilson, Supreme Representative Phillips, Past Grand Chancellor Langley and Messrs. Clark Burdick and John P. Sanborn of the local lodge.

NEWPORT MILITARY BAND.

The Newport Military Band at its meeting last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—A. Livingston Mason.
Vice President—Daniel Boss.
Secretary—C. Elmer Clarke.
Treasurer—M. C. Callahan.
Librarian—Daniel Boss.
Conductor—William H. Gilliam.
Janitor—George Stevens.
Music Committee—Daniel Boss, William H. Gilliam.

A committee was appointed to secure a charter for the band. Refreshments were served, followed by a social, in which instrumental solos were rendered by several members.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS FRENCH ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Tuck French yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pauline LeRoy French, to Mr. Samuel J. Wagstaff of New York. Mr. and Mrs. French for several years have made their winter home in Tuxedo, their house, "Tuck's Eden," being one of the oldest in that colony. In the summer they always came to Newport, passing the season with Mrs. French's mother, Mrs. Stuyvesant LeRoy, at "Mapleshade," where Miss French was introduced to society during the summer of 1905. Later in the season her grandmother, Mrs. Francis Ormonde French, gave for Miss French a brilliant ball at "Harbourview."

Miss French is an attractive young woman and has been greatly admired and popular since her introduction to society. She is a niece of Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt and also of Lady Cheylesmore, of England, on her father's side, and of Mr. Stuyvesant Le Roy, her mother's brother. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tuck, who for many years have lived in Paris, are also her relatives.

Mr. Wagstaff is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff, of Tahkiuah, West Islip, L. I., and is an undergraduate in Harvard. He spent the greater part of the past summer in Newport where his attentions to Miss French were quite marked. Mr. Wagstaff and Miss French were recently guests of Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt at "Oakland Farm," and will be members of a house party at the Vanderbilt lodge at Lake Saranac in the Adirondacks after the Christmas holidays.

MRS. KERNOCHAN MAKES A CHRISTMAS GIFT OF $300,000.

Mrs. Catherine L. Kernochan has presented as a Christmas gift the sum of $300,000 to her daughter, Mrs Herbert C. Pell, and to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James L. Kernochan. It is largely in checks and will be divided between them. She had also given to Mrs. Pell a house at 265 Lexington avenue.

Mrs. James L. Kernochan, who was Miss Eloise Stevenson, is the widow of the only son of Mrs. Catherine L. Kernochan. She is a member of the Meadow Brook Hunt Club and an accomplished horse woman. She has spent a great deal of her time in the last two or three years with her mother-in-law and the two have always been much attached to each other.

Their attachment has been much closer since last month, when the younger woman broke an engagement of which her mother-in-law did not approve. The engagement, in fact, was not recognized by her at the time, and although there was never any evidence that it had in any way disturbed their pleasant relations it is an open secret that she was pleased when it was discontinued. The Christmas present which Mrs. James L. Kernochan has received is a result of her decision not to wed.

GOVERNOR UTTER RETURNS HOME.

Governor Utter rested well last night and his condition was greatly improved this morning, so that when Dr. Stewart arrived he yielded to the governor's desire to leave for his home in Westerly. Early this afternoon, accompanied by Mrs Utter, the governor started on his journey, via Wickford. Except for weakness, he seemed quite himself again, but he has been cautioned not to exert himself to any extent and rest as much as possible.

FOG.

The weather conditions since yesterday have been decidedly of the foggy order, and had it not been for the chill in the atmosphere it might be thought this was a section of June weather. Last night the stars and moon were out and things looked clear. This morning there was a fog that one could almost cut. It was rolled in by a light southeast breeze and seemed to permeate everything, making the atmosphere decidedly chilly. Later the wind shifted to northeast and the sun came out about 10:30 and it looked like clearing away, but it only looked, for the sun took another vacation and the fog still prevailed, though not in such a permeating manner as in the morning. There was a little leo during the night.

The fog keeps a number of tugs with barges tied up here, awaiting better weather.

FREIGHT HOUSE "PRESENTS."

Some wag has placed a placard over several bushel baskets at the freight shed on Long wharf. The placard reads: "Drop All Presents In Here." Complaints are the kind of presents the men at the freight shed usually receive, varied once in a great while by some one who, forgetting the rule of the drivers, thanks the men for some act of courtesy. If the usual complaints are forgotten for a day or two the freight men will receive their Christmas presents.

It did seem today as though the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals owed a Christmas remembrance to one of the men, who saw a small crate containing geese, and knowing that geese like water gave them some. He felt repaid by the manner in which the birds drank the water which they evidently greatly needed.

A GRANDFATHER LOBSTER.

Thursday Captain Smith of fishing sloop Gypsy Maid came in with the "granddaddy" of the lobster season of 1906, which was 33 inches long and weighed 14 pounds. The feature was his "port" claw, which was 13 inches long and 7 wide and must have weighed fully half the total. Old fishermen say it was the biggest claw they ever saw. The lobster was caught on a trawl line and was taken to Providence to the commissioners of inland fisheries, who have charge of the lobster business.

MRS. BULL'S OPERATION.

Mrs. Bull, wife of Dr. William T. Bull, was operated upon Thursday afternoon at her home in New York for a disease affecting the nerves of her left foot. Two operations were performed several years ago upon the right foot, and recently Mrs. Bull found that she was losing the use of the other. Mrs Bull wished to postpone the ordeal until after the holidays, but delay was considered dangerous and yesterday Dr. Virgil Gibney undertook the operation, which was a delicate one.

CITY HOSPITAL CHRISTMAS FUND CLOSED.

Dr. Ramsay announces that a sufficient amount of money has now been received to provide a Merry Christmas for the inmates of the City Hospital, and hence it has been deemed advisable to close the subscription list. The sum of $83 has been subscribed in cash, and in addition many things have been donated which will fit into proper niches to make the holiday as full of pleasure for the children as is possible, and yet keep them away from their own firesides. For the liberality of the citizens Dr. Ramsay expresses his own thanks, and Tuesday the children will feel that their unknown friends are entitled to their gratitude. Since yesterday's report the following donations have been received:

John Harrington,	$1.00
Cash,	1.00
R. C.,	1.00
Mrs. D. E. Sullivan,	1.00
Cash,	5.00
Mrs. T. Shaw Safe,	10.00

Alfred Urquhart and Thomas and Catherine Robertson have given a number of games.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. George S. Stoddard is quite ill at his residence on Friendship street.

—Four extra letter carriers are on duty for the Christmas business, making 21 in all.

—Yesterday afternoon a draft of 40 apprentices from the Training Station left for Boston.

—C. H. Wrightington has rented for Mrs. George H. Taylor the upper half of her house on Tew's court to Joseph Donahue.

—William E. Brightman has rented for Philip Stevens the lower half of his double house at 37 Thames street to Michael Currie.

—Miss Edith A. Barber, director of art in the public schools, has gone to her home in Townsend, Mass., to spend the holidays.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Paul have returned from their wedding trip and Mr. Paul has resumed his duties as conductor on the Newport & Providence railway.

—Mr. R. M. Pike and Mr. Harry Alger have gone to New York for the holidays. Yesterday the pupils of the Potter School presented Mr. Alger with a valuable silk umbrella.

—Daniel F. Nihan, nurse at the naval hospital, and Miss Lillian Tew, a clerk at the Lapham store, were married in Fall River Wednesday by Rev. E. W. Smith, rector of the Church of the Ascension.

—Today's arrivals at the United States Hotel include Benjamin Smith of New York, Charles J. Martell of Boston, James H. Taylor of Providence and Miss Mary Wilson of Norwich, Conn.

—Late yesterday afternoon the horse used by Letter Carrier Callahan started from the postoffice and ran up Thames street until it reached the dry goods district, where it was captured by Officer Coggeshall.

—Lieutenant Commander John H. Bernadou, U. S. N., has been assigned to duty as naval attache at Rome and Vienna, succeeding Lieutenant Commander William L. Howard who remains as naval attache at Berlin.

—There seems to be an abundance of turkeys for the Christmas trade, though the dealers say there is no special surplus and it is expected that about all will be gone when Christmas comes. The birds are looking well everywhere and the prices are about the same as at Thanksgiving. Western turkeys being a shade lower and what are called natives fully as high, owing to the scarcity of such birds.

—This is supposed to be the shortest day of the year. Just how this result is reached is a mystery to most individuals, but the authorities seem agreed that this is either the shortest or one of the shortest, and where it is agreed that it is one of the shortest it is made the middle day of the three shortest, showing that it marks really the last of the "down" and the first of the "up" in length of day.

POLICE PROSECUTION.

Report of the Work Done by Special Attorney Levy Since Last June.

At the meeting of the Police Commission last evening only one license, to a peddler, was granted.

There was received from Mr. Max Levy, who had been engaged to prosecute criminal cases brought by the police after City Solicitor Brown declined to further prosecute such cases, a report on the work he had done. This showed that he had taken up the work June 11. Since then 37 cases have been prosecuted before the district court; 27 resulted in convictions, 2 in acquittals, 2 were dismissed, 2 were withdrawn and one is pending before the superior court. This is the case against Officer Denman, in connection with junk in dispute. The two cases withdrawn were so disposed of because the witnesses for the state could not be had. The two cases dismissed were the two health cases which it was proposed to carry to the high court for a decision, but which were thrown out in the district court because the court held that the preliminary steps, taken before the cases came to the police, were improperly taken. Mr. Levy said he had been given the fullest support and assistance possible by Chief Crowley and Inspector Griffith, whom he complimented on their good work in preparing for the trials. There were of course, besides these cases that were tried, many consultations about cases and the probable value of the evidence available. The number of convictions showed that the cases prosecuted were real prosecutions and not persecutions, and that great care was taken in the preparation of the cases.

SIXTIETH HAS BAD RECORD.

Characterized in Letters of Tyler as "Mutinous" and "Worthless."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Correspondence regarding the muster out of the Sixtieth Ohio regiment of infantry, concerning which Senator Foraker, in a speech in the Senate this week, took issue with President Roosevelt, was given out at the White House today. The correspondence includes letters passing between Brigadier General Daniel Tyler, commanding at Camp Douglas, Chicago, and officials of the War Department and pension office at Washington.

In a letter to Adjutant General Thomas at Washington, dated Chicago, October 22, 1862, General Tyler uses the words "This regiment (the Sixtieth Ohio volunteers) is disorganized, mutinous and worthless."

"The officers," he adds, "have not the least control over the men, the men are mutinous and I am absolutely without the power to force subordination." He asked that the question of the discharge of the regiment be brought before the Secretary of War. "It will," General Tyler adds, "rid the government of a worthless regiment."

Next is a telegram from General Thomas directing the muster out of the regiment—both officers and men. A note in the correspondence says the organization of the Sixtieth Ohio regiment was completed on or about February 28, 1862. This is followed by the recitation of the War Department record dated October 17, 1874, signed by Assistant Adjutant General Thomas M. Vincent, which says:

"Make the necessary notation on the proper rolls to show that the Sixtieth Ohio volunteers (one year organization) captured and paroled at Harper's Ferry, September 15, 1862, was mustered out November 10, 1862 by an order telegram dated October 27, 1862 from this office—by reason of its being disorganized, mutinous and worthless."

The last letter in the correspondence is from General Tyler to General Thomas, dated October 23, 1862. In which he tells of a spirit of "insubordination bordering on mutiny" among the men of the camp, due to the "insubordination of the Sixtieth regiment and the inefficiency of the men" and to the fact that he had to order the entire regiment under guard with good results.

DUE TO DEFECTIVE RAIL.

Two Sleeping Cars Thrown Off the Track Near Rutland.

SHELBURNE, Vt., Dec. 22.—A defective rail threw two sleeping cars attached to the rear of the Montreal express, bound for New York over the Rutland railroad, off the track a mile and a half north of this station last night, but none of the passengers were hurt badly enough to require hospital attention. That there were no fatalities or serious injuries is considered remarkable, as the train, 40 minutes late at Burlington, was running at a high rate of speed to make up for lost time, and the two cars, which contained 47 passengers, 10 of whom were women, were dragged on their sides for over 100 yards. The most painfully injured was a woman, who sprained her leg, but she was able to walk without assistance.

None of the other cars left the iron, and after a delay of an hour and a half the passengers of the sleeping cars were transferred to the forward cars and continued on to Rutland. The accident was caused by the breaking of about five feet of the rail just as the first of the two sleepers were passing over it. The roadbed was badly torn up, and the derailed cars will need extensive repairs. A relief train was sent from Burlington with physicians, but by the time it arrived all the passengers had crawled out of their overturned cars and needed little attention beyond the dressing of some minor cuts and bruises.

SHAH HAS A RELAPSE.

Takes a Turn for the Worse and Condition Considered Critical.

TEHERAN, Persia, Dec. 22.—The shah has again had a relapse. After a few days's improvement his condition took a turn for the worse yesterday evening, and His Majesty's physicians now report that his condition is very critical.

TO TAKE THE SCHOOL CENSUS.

G. A. Hazard Elected by the School Committee—Gymnasium Instruction for the Boys.

The School Committee held a special meeting Friday afternoon to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. M. Sherman, one of the men elected recently to take the school census. There were two candidates for the place, Stephen S. Carr received three votes and George Ashley Hazard received six and was elected. Mr. Hazard was recently elected by the Board of Aldermen to take the census of births, so that this year the birth and school censuses will be taken by the same men.

In view of the fact that Monday evening will be Christmas eve, it was voted not to hold a session of the evening schools that night, when every one wants to be somewhere else. The classes which should meet Monday will have an extra session after the regular term.

The committee on high school was authorized to secure a man to give the boys instruction in gymnasium work. For some time the girls have been receiving instruction three days a week from Miss Brownell, and now that the girls' class is well under way it was thought time to secure, if possible, some suitable man to take charge of the indoor work of the boys. Last year the physical instructor gave instruction to boys and girls, but to make the gymnasium what it should be for the boys it is desirable to have a man to lead them in the work.

STILL IN WASHINGTON.

Many Congressmen Continue Work Through the Holidays.

No Passes for Trip Home and Telegraph Franks to be Withheld—.. Railway Men's Hours.

[Washington correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—On a day like this one may easily discover the identity of the really energetic members of Congress. With both Houses adjourned and the Christmas spirit pervading the city from one end to the other, there is little incentive and little necessity for work at the Capitol. Yet some Senators and Representatives are applying themselves to business more assiduously than when the session was in full swing. They go to the Capitol regularly, read and answer their mail and spend hours every day in their committee rooms looking into matters which will require their attention after the holidays. In the meantime most of their colleagues from nearby states have gone home for Christmas. The exodus is by no means as general as usual, however. The cutting off of railway passes makes the payment of cash fares necessary, and the Congressman, whose home is some distance from Washington or who has to depend entirely on his official salary, finds it much more convenient to remain in Washington throughout the holidays than give good money to the railroads for service which for so many years has been free to legislators.

Another thing that will tend to decrease the surplus of more than one law maker after the first of the year is the announcement by one of the two big telegraph companies that hereafter it will issue no franks. For years members of both Houses have been furnished with books of telegraph stamps which enabled them to send all their telegrams free. The franks were supposed to be used solely on personal and social messages, but only an infinitesimal number of the members heeded the provision to that effect which the companies printed in each book of stamps. They used the franks for business purposes, too, and as soon as the stamps in one book were exhausted they applied for another. In this way the two companies carried an enormous amount of free business, and while the "courtesy" did not cause legislators to be unduly biased in favor of the companies, perhaps, it assuredly did have some effect in the way of preventing any general movement on the part of Congress in the direction of lower rates for the transmission of telegrams and other similar reforms.

Since the convening of the present session of Congress Representative McNary of Massachusetts and others have offered resolutions asking for information concerning the government owned telegraph lines of various European nations. While there is a very small amount of sentiment in favor of general government ownership of public service utilities in the United States on the part of members, it is thought that no harm can be done by comparing telegraph and telephone rates in countries where government ownership of means of communication exists with those prevailing here. The action of the telegraph company referred to in deciding to issue no more franks apparently has no connection with this movement in Congress, but it may have some effect on the attitude of a few members nevertheless.

Practically all the railroads are opposed to Senator La Follette's bill regulating the hours of railway employes. The bill as reported to the Senate forbids any railway in the District of Columbia or the territories to work its men more than 16 hours at a time, except in case of accident, and then makes the same provision regarding all railways engaged in Interstate Commerce. The railway managers complain that the enactment of such a bill into law would necessitate changes in their schedules and their handling of employes, which would produce conditions nothing short of chaotic. The organizations of railway men, who of course are advocating the passage of the La Follette bill, assert that no such calamitous would follow, but that the railways would simply be compelled to employ an adequate number of men instead of overworking the ones already in service.

Congress—or, rather, the leaders of the two Houses who under present conditions control the work of Congress—is opposed to any sweeping financial legislation at this session. There is a very considerable difference of opinion among financiers and bankers as to just what changes are necessary, and the opinion of the Congressional leaders is that this difference is so material as to make action at the present time inadvisable.

"I am glad that the House accepted the amendment to the legislative appropriation bill increasing the salaries of members of the cabinet, the Vice President and the Speaker to $12,000," said Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who is soon to retire from the list of President Roosevelt's advisers. "The raise will not affect me so I may make this assertion with propriety. The present salary of $8,000 is altogether too small for a cabinet officer. I know some who spend as high as $40,000 a year."

Charles W. Arthur.

RUSH COAL TO NORTHWEST.

Minneapolis Dock and Coal Companies Doing Everything Possible.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 21.—The railroads are bending every effort to rush coal into the northwest district, that has for some time been suffering from a fuel famine. The big dock companies and the coal companies are doing everything possible to help in relieving the situation, but there is considerable difficulty still in getting cars. Cars once loaded are moved from the docks without delay. It is believed, too, that there is a considerable amount of fuel in transit.

Relief from one source is afforded by the arrival here of several trainloads of Illinois coal. Much of this is being reshipped to northwest points.

ICE TRUST DENIES CHARGES.

President Declares Company Has Never Curtailed Production.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Wesley M. Oler, president of the American Ice Company, said today that the proceedings begun in the New York state supreme court do not demand the dissolution of the American Ice Company or the forfeiture of its right to do business in New York state.

Mr. Oler said that Attorney General Mayer's proceedings were a demand that any illegal contracts be cancelled and that the American Ice Company be enjoined from curtailing the production of ice. He declared that there are no illegal contracts and that his company had never curtailed production.

SHOOTS CAPTAIN MACKLIN.

Assailant Probably Soldier Dismissed Under Roosevelt's Order.

EL RENO, Okla., Dec. 21.—Captain Edgar B. Macklin of Company C, Twenty-fifth United States Infantry, was shot twice and severely wounded tonight by a negro at Fort Reno, and belief is expressed that it was one of the members of the troop discharged by President Roosevelt for participation in the Brownsville riots. Bloodhounds will be brought here from Oklahoma City to trace the assassin.

There was a knock at the door of the officer's quarters, and when Captain Macklin responded the negro fired and fled. One bullet entered Captain Macklin's abdomen, the second struck him in the jaw. The surgeon says that the wounds are not necessarily fatal.

UPHOLDS DRAGO DOCUMENT.

Root Reserves Right to Present It at The Hague Conference.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Secretary of State Root, in accepting the tentative program for the approaching conference at The Hague, has reserved the right on behalf of the United States government to propose for discussion the subjects of disarmament and the Drago document.

This latter subject was injected into the program of the Rio conference by the United States, after the program had been practically completed at the meeting of an international committee in Washington last winter, and this article, which is the outgrowth of Dr. Calvo's famous dictum, involving the right of a nation to use force in the collection from other nations of public debts, gave rise to more controversy and excited more feeling and was generally of greater importance than any other article discussed at Rio.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Woodbury Kane is at the Muenchinger—King cottage.

—Mr. Franklin C. Parsonage is visiting his parents in this city.

—Barge J. E. English is in, with coal for D. J. Sullivan & Co.

—Miss Josephine Reiss has returned from an extended visit to New York.

—Mrs. Paul A. Andrews returned last evening from a visit to Philadelphia.

—Mr. W. H. Cotton of New York is here to spend Christmas with his mother, Mrs. W. H. Cotton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones and Miss Sadie Jones left New York yesterday for Wilmington, N. C., where they will spend the holidays.

—Mrs. DeMovtle of Brookline, Mass., is here to spend the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Marcus F. Wheatland, who is ill at her residence on John street.

—Mrs. T. Manigault Morris and her daughters, the Misses Morris, of Baltimore are visiting Surgeon and Mrs. Lewis Morris at the Torpedo Station, for Christmas.

—Gunner Henry Ernest of the Torpedo Station, who has been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever, is convalescing, and although his case was considered serious at first the doctors now have every hope for his recovery.

—Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish has issued invitations for a series of dinners in New York December 25, January 9 and January 24. Early in the winter Mrs. L. Townsend Burden will give a housewarming dinner for 60 at her new house.

—A young man called at a store on Bellevue avenue yesterday and asked permission to use the telephone. When he left three small trinkets were missing. Later he was arrested and fined. His wife went among her friends and raised the money.

FOR GOOD OF POLICY HOLDERS.

Representatives of Insurance Companies Form National Union.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The first steps were taken today toward the formation of an "association of life insurance presidents." Broadly speaking, the purposes of the organization will be to further the interests of policy holders and bring about a more nearly uniform practice in the conduct of life insurance business.

Today's meeting was at the suggestion of President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and brought together representatives of 24 companies, while three other companies sent communications expressing approval of the proposed association. Mr. Morton presided and Thomas A. Buckner, second vice president of the New York Life, was made temporary secretary. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws and subsequently reported a tentative plan of organization. Copies of the plan, which met with general approval, were distributed, but final action was deferred until December 28, when it is purposed to effect a permanent organization. Presidents and vice presidents representing their companies will be eligible to membership.

Companies represented today included: Aetna Life, Hartford, Conn., J. L. English, vice president; Berkshire Life, Pittsfield, Mass., James W. Hull, president; Connecticut General Life, Hartford, Conn., R. W. Huntington, Jr., president; Equitable Life, New York, Paul Morton, president, C. E. Tarbell, second vice president, and George T. Wilson, third vice president; Home Life, New York, George M. Ide, president; Manhattan Life, New York, N. W. Torrey, secretary; Massachusetts Mutual, Springfield, Mass., John A. Hall, president, and F. O. Ayres, fourth vice president; Mutual Life, New York, Charles W. Peabody, president; National Life, Montpelier, Vt., Joseph A. Deboer, president, and J. T. Phelps, vice president; New England Mutual Life, Boston, Mass., Alfred D. Foster, vice president; New York Life, New York, D. P. Kingsley and Thomas A. Buckner, vice presidents; Prudential, Newark, N. J., Dr. Leslie D. Ward, vice president; State Mutual Life, Worcester, Mass., A. G. Bullock, president; Travelers, Hartford, Conn., S. C. Dunham, president; United States Life, New York, Dr. John P. Munn, president.

Mr. Morton said tonight:

"It was the general disposition to enter into an association, provided one could be formed on the right lines. A committee of seven was appointed to draft a tentative plan. The committee reported at three o'clock, and their report was received by the meeting and ordered printed and distributed for the careful consideration of all prospective members. The plan is only tentative, but under it, the welfare of the policy holders will be the first thing considered, and next will come a better and more uniform practice generally in life insurance. Expenses are to be reduced where possible, and waste eliminated. The association will publicly present its views to law-making bodies, and all others wishing light and information on life insurance matters, and it was the unanimous desire of all participating in the meeting that there should be the fullest discussion of the plan at the next meeting, to be held December 28.

"The newspapers are given the full report of the committee, and there will be nothing about the proposed organization that we care to keep from the public. It is their interests we are trying to serve."

Japanese warships will visit San Francisco within the next few months despite reports to the contrary. This is the statement of Consul K. Uyeno, who says he expects the training cruiser squadron, under Vice Admiral Kataoka, one of the mikado's flag officers, who distinguished himself in the operations against the Russian Vladivostock fleet.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

CHRISTMAS SPECIALTIES.

How to Make Plum Pudding—Attractive Little German Cakes With Vanilla Icing.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

Christmas Plum Pudding—Clean, wash and dry one pound of currants; take one pound of seeded raisins. Mix with one quarter pound each of chopped candied orange and lemon peel, one pound of suet chopped fine, three quarters of a pound of fine stale bread crumbs, one quarter of a pound of sifted flour, one quarter of a pound of brown sugar. Beat five eggs, add a half pint of brandy or sweet cider, and pour over the dry ingredients. Add one quarter of a nutmeg grated, the grated rind of one lemon and mix thoroughly. Pack in small, greased molds or covered kettles. Boil steadily for six hours and set away in a cold place. When used boil for two hours longer and serve with a hard sauce flavored with vanilla and brandy or sherry.

White Christmas Cake—Chop fine one pound of citron and cut another pound in thin slices. Blanch two pounds of shelled almonds; cut half in long fine strips and chop the remainder quite fine. Peel and grate one large coconnut. Separate the whites and yolks of one dozen eggs and whip until light. Cream together one pound of butter and one pound of fine granulated sugar; gradually add the beaten yolks and a little from one pound of sifted pastry flour if needed. Add one scant half teaspoonful or salt and one teaspoonful of mace, then alternate with the remainder of the flour, one half cupful of sherry and the whipped whites. Lastly add the chopped almonds, citron and cocoanut and beat long and hard. Line two loaf pans with three thicknesses of paper. Put in each a layer of the batter, cover with some of the sliced nuts and citron and so continue until the ingredients are all used. Bake in a slow oven for almost two hours. This keeps well and is delicious.

Little German Cakes—Cream a half pound each of butter and powdered sugar. Add the beaten yolks of six eggs, a pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of vanilla and three quarters of a pound of sifted pastry flour. Have ready some icing made with the white of one egg, two drops of vanilla and enough powdered sugar to beat stiff; put this in a paper cornucopia and cut off the tip, then fold the top tightly. Take up pieces of the soft dough, roll on the board with the hands until as thick as the middle finger, then form into cakes shaped like a big S. Lay well apart on greased pans and over each press a thread of icing. Bake in a very hot oven.

Almond Nougat—Blanch one pound of shelled almonds, cut into strips then spread on a flat pan and dry without coloring in the open oven. Put two pounds of granulated sugar in a shallow pan with one third of a cupful of hot water and stir frequently until melted to a clear syrup. Boil for five minutes, then add the juice of half a lemon and boil slowly but steadily until a little, when dropped in cold water, is very brittle. Watch closely and as soon as it begins to change color pour over the almonds, which have been spread on a shallow, buttered pan. When partly cooled mark off in squares and break when cold and crisp.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The sudden death last evening of Mr. George E. Ward of Prospect Hill avenue cast a gloom over a wide circle of relatives and friends, especially at this season. Mr. Ward died quietly and instantly, of heart trouble, while sitting in a chair at his home. His death was almost as the snuffing out of a candle. He had been clearing out his father's barn, near his home, which had recently been sold, and at night, not feeling especially well, thought he was troubled with a cold or a touch of the grip. His wife used several remedies, and it was at that time, between 10 and 11 o'clock, that his death occurred.

Mr. Ward was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ward and is survived by a widow, by one son, John Ward, and two daughters, Hazel and Rowena Ward. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lyman H. Barker of Newport and Mrs. Isaac Barker of Middletown, and three brothers, Messrs. Charles H. and A. Herbert Ward of Middletown and Joseph Hooker Ward of New York.

Mr. Ward was largely known in Middletown, where he had spent his entire life. He had been engaged in farming, although not to a large extent in recent years, but had done considerable trading. At the time of his death he was holding the office of special constable to enforce the law for the suppression of intemperance, was the health officer of the town, and was also chorister of Aquidneck Grange, of which he was an active and interested member.

Better Take the Rapid Transit

TO TITUS CO's TODAY: EVERYTHING, FROM CHINA TO CHAIRS, IS ON THE FLY, AND THE VERY THING YOU WANT MOST MAY BE THE VERY THING SOMEONE ELSE WANTS MOST—PERHAPS THERE'S BUT ONE OF THEM; IT MAY HAVE FLOWN WHEN YOU GET HERE. WILL YOU BE DISAPPOINTED?

Assortment is still Complete. 'Twon't be Much Longer.

A WRITING DESK.

There's always a Merry Xmas in a writing desk—such a useful gift, too. For prospective housekeepers nothing in the world could be better selected. There's an unusually pretty lot here this Xmas. Over 40 styles in oak, bird's eye maple and mahogany from $5.75

A COUCH.

Here's where mother comes in. She has had a place arranged for one this six months. How disappointed she'll be if she doesn't get it. She appreciates more than anyone else the value of such a resting place.

Santa's stock holds many sorts—box couches couches with adjustable heads, couches in velours, and couches in leather, from $7.50 to $50.

Fancy China.

You've all called this the grandest display you ever saw. Those who "shop" say there's nothing like it in Boston. What you want is sure to be here and at a littler price than you'll find anywhere else. Will you get it? Depends upon how spry you are. There's one day left for gift-getting. There are many thinkers for every thought. It behooves you to think fast.

A MORRIS CHAIR.

Now, really, didn't you ever hear father tell of what a fine comfortable Morris Chair so and-so had? What more of a suggestion do you want that nothing in the world would please him more than one of these same articles? Upwards of 40 combinations in oak and mahogany with handsomely figured velour cushions.

One beauty in solid mahogany with beautifully carved posts and claw feet, cushions of hide leather filled with best South American hair, $36.50

A BOOKCASE.

"Gunn's" Best sectional case made—received highest award at St. Louis Exposition. Just the thing for brother who's at college, weathered oak, golden oak and mahogany.

There must be some one in the family who loves books, some one who has more books than places to put them in, some one who would be "tickled to pieces" if Santa would leave in their stocking a bookcase. There are nearly 50 patterns here in oak and mahogany from 40c.

DOLL CARRIAGE DELIGHTS FOR LITTLE MITES.

Proud as a young mother is the little miss with her doll. Give her a carriage to wheel it in.

Tiny Carriages for tiny misses, $1.00
Good sized Carriage, upholstered, with shade to match, $1.50
Large Carriage, fancy design, $2.00

GO-CARTS.

Quite the thing for a change.

Beauties in fancy colored rattan and wood, from $1.00 up

CHILD COMFORT.

Like big folks—that's what pleases the little ones most. How big they feel in a little chair like mamma's. Here are some just the sort:

Large—Little Arm Rocker of oak, with leather seat and fancy back, $1.65

DO YOUR CHOOSING HERE AND DO IT QUICKYL.

A MINUTE'S DELAY MAY MEAN A LOST OPPORTUNITY.

SANTA LEAVES MONDAY.

A DRESSING TABLE

Here's a gift for Xmas that every miss longs for from the time she begins to think of being a young lady until she gets it. Take a peep into her room and judge of the delights 'twould bring. Ten to one she has some sort of a crude substitute. There's lots of Xmas happiness among these dainty Empire effects in enamel and beautiful woods, each with its toilet mirror and drawers, from $4.50

CHRISTMAS RUGS.

Xmas Rug glories poured in on us from all over the world this year—True Orientals and clever masqueraders. Great big rugs that would cover a whole floor and little fellows scarcely the width of a doorway. Hasn't some one dropped a hint that Xmas was near at hand and that a rug was so much needed in this place or that? Great picking here from 75c.

Things to Think of.

CHAFING DISHES.

Not a member of the family, who wouldn't get a heap of enjoyment out of it. Think of the fun you've had at other people's "chafing dish parties"—doesn't that decide the question right away? From $3.35

CHIFFONIERS.

"Wish I knew where I could put this away." Haven't you heard mother say that time and again? What a happy Xmas surprise 'twould be. More than 50 kinds, from $5.

FOLDING SCREENS.

Genuine Louis XIV shapes with double covers in figured denim and burlap, from $3.

FIRE SCREENS.

Single panels in tapestry, with rural, mural and floral decorations, from $3.50.

CHAIRS.

It beats all how Santa has laid himself out for us. Here's the prettiest collection of fancy chairs and rockers that you ever saw. You'll wonder why it is he gives all his best things to us—we're good to him; we distribute them—that's why, and such prices! One hint: Beautifully polished in quartered oak and mahogany finish, with polished seat, $2.25.

PARLOR TABLES.

Every idea from 1630 to now. Can you conceive a better field for picking? Perhaps you can't see the need of a new one, but ask the "lady of the house"—Santa couldn't remember her more acceptably, for $1.50.

A DINNER SET.

What gift could be more appropriate for house adornment and genuine utility than a dinner set? Have it for the Xmas dinner. Imported semi-porcelain, with under glaze decorations, warranted not to crackle or craze, $9.50

FOR THE CHILDREN.

ROCKING HORSES.

He'll play polo on it, or load a whole army to battle all over the house. 'Twill keep him out of mischief, $2.75

On platform. Completely equipped with removable bridle, padded saddle, built on frame that can't tip over, $3.50

EXPRESS WAGONS.

Make the little fellows think they are real, live business men. Good idea to fill their minds with such fancies.

Good size, well built, 42c.

Good size, shaved spoke wheels, iron axles, $1.50

FROM GRANDMA TO BABY.

Xmas comes just in time for grandma's first present to the dear little thing. Let it be a high chair. The little tot is just old enough to sit at the table.

A beauty—all oak, with tray, $1.25

ON WHEELS—Never known to sell so low before. Adjustable to two positions, $2.75

SHOO FLIES.

For the little mite too young for the saddle—they'll enjoy it just as much, 65c.

A MUSIC CABINET.

Just think how much harder sister would practice if some one only gave her a cabinet to keep her music in. Perhaps if the truth was known mother would be as glad as sister. 'Twould be such an ornament to the parlor. Cost for Xmas choosing from $4.00

FOR THE SMOKERS

There are Pipe Racks—Monks' heads in groups of four and seven, at 50c, 60c., $1.00.

TOBACCO JARS—Dogs' heads, jolly darkies, Indian heads and a dozen other novelties, from 25c.

Smoking Sets and Tables from $1.90.

Ash Trays of every conceivable sort from 10c.

Isn't there one member of the family that such a gift would please?

MISSIONARIES AND STATIONS.

Statement of Evangelical Forces Engaged in Non-Christian World.

BOSTON, Dec. 22.—A statement of the evangelical forces now engaged in efforts to evangelize the non-Christian world was made public today by Editorial Secretary E. E. Strong, D. D., of the American board. It shows a total of 29,386 stations and out-stations, 6,756 men and 6,039 women missionaries, 70,735 native laborers, 1,349,998 communicants, 1,120,802 under instruction and an income of $18,605,748. Thes totals show an increase over the reports of last year. The statistics of the principal foreign missionary societies of the evangelical churches of the United States show that women missionaries outnumber the men, there being 3,031 of the former to 2,013 of the latter. Native contributions amounted to $1,282,259, and the total income was $8,260,324.

Great Britain is shown to have more men in the foreign field than women, with 3,150 men, as compared with 1,990 women. The total income of the British societies is $962,224 below that of the American societies, amounting to $7,298,097.

The last enumeration of missionaries in China gives their number as 3,270. The native church is shown to be doubling about every seven years, and the missionary forces every 10 years. In Japan there are 48,087 Christian communicants in the Protestant churches, and there have been 6,999 adult baptisms during the past year.

Eighty-nine societies are engaged in Christian work in India and of these 32 are American. All the societies have in this field 3,437 foreign missionaries, and the 541 hospitals and dispensaries have within the year cared for 2,000,950 patients.

Two ordained men with their wives constitute the American missionary force in Austria. Their converts come in large numbers to this country, where they are working for their own race who have flocked to Chicago, Cleveland and Pittsburg and other portions of the United States. The South Sea islands also report progress. Plans are being formed by the American board for the sending of a medical missionary for the re-inforcement of the work in the Philippines.

DR. C. F. THWING MARRIED.

Weds Miss Mary Gardiner Dunning of Auburn, N. Y.

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Charles F. Thwing, D. D., LL. D., president of Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Mary Gardiner Dunning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Dunning, were married at the bride's home in this city, today. Rev. George Morgan Ward, D. D., president of Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., officiated. Among the guests were Dr. Thwing's three children of Cleveland, his nephew, Charles Thwing of Chicago, who was best man, his sister, Miss Thwing of Farrington, Me., Miss McCaleb, dean, and Miss Kendrick, principal of Vassar College, where the bride was graduated, and Miss Charlotte Dunning of Hudson, who was bridesmaid. Dr. and Mrs. Thwing next summer will embark upon a year's tour around the world, the president having been granted leave of absence for that period.

ROOSEVELT TAKEN TO TASK.

No People Has Shielded More Criminals Than Southern Whites.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—William A. Sinclair, president, and N. F. Mossell, secretary of the local branch of the Constitutional League, today, sent a long message to President Roosevelt, denouncing the action taken in dismissing the members of the Twenty-fifth infantry. After protesting against his "superheated denunciation of the colored troopers," the message takes up the reference to shielding criminals, and charges that even to the present day "murderous organizations of white men in the South are carrying on their war on the colored people." The protest continues:

"These secret clans hesitate not to assassinate United States government officials and band together to shield and protect each other. They are supported by the white people, and have very recently seized and lynched a prisoner who was in the custody of the Supreme Court of the United States, and while the lynchers were in Washington answering the charge of contempt before the Supreme Court of the United States the nation was shocked by the fact that the President received and honored the lynchers at the White House. As a matter of fact, no people has shielded more criminals and covered up more crimes than the white people of the South. And in the South the blood of more innocent men and women is shed by brutal red-handed white clans, cries from the ground to the avenger of God than in all the other parts of the country taken together."

RUSSIAN COUNT ASSASSINATED.

Shot and Killed by Unknown Man, Who Was Captured by Police.

TVER, Russia, Dec. 22.—Count Alexis Ignateff, a member of the council empire and ex-governor of Kiev, Volhynia and Podolia, was shot and killed by an unknown man here today in the refreshment room of the hall occupied by the nobles' assembly. The assassin fired six bullets from a revolver into his victim's body and then tried to commit suicide but was seized before he could do so and is now in the custody of the police.

SCHMITZ OFFERS TO PLEAD.

Judge Says He Will Take Request Under Advisement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—Mayor Schmitz, through his attorney, F. C. Campbell, yesterday requested permission of the court to withdraw his motion to set aside the indictments, offered to waive the demurrer, and asked to be allowed to plead not guilty. Judge Dunn refused to grant the request that the mayor be allowed to plead, but said that he would take the request under advisement.

Although Schmitz offered to plead, thereby indicating that he was ready to waive technicalities and go on trial, Reuf's attorney continued efforts to have the indictments against Reuf set aside.

NO DANGER OF STRIKE.

Grand Master Says Trainmen Will Live Up to Their Contracts.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 22.—P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the railroad trainmen, left for New York last night. The Plain Dealer today, in an interview, will quote Mr. Morrissey as follows: "The railroad trainmen have violated no contracts and all contracts we have with the railroads will be faithfully lived up to. There is no reason to suppose that our men will go on strike."

Mr. Morrissey will be in New York for some days in an effort to settle the differences in the East. He declared that he believed an amicable settlement would be effected, and that there was no danger of the trainmen striking during the holiday rush.

A Foundation.

Every one knows about the man who built his house upon the sand and the man who built his house upon the rock. What was true then is also true today. The first thing to be considered in the construction of a building is a solid foundation. The next of most importance is to secure the best materials for its construction—material that has no flaws and contains no adulteration. This applies most strongly to paint. The Colonial Paint is 100 per cent. pure—not one ounce of adulteration can be found in it. Every package bears our State Chemist's report.

WILL CARE FOR THE CATS.

President Roosevelt Respects the Wish of a Suicide.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—President Roosevelt, although he had never known Mrs. Lulu B. Grover, a widow, who committed suicide by drinking chloroform at her Harlem home December 8, respected her dying wishes, expressed in writing, that he would order the disposal of her body and take care of her pets, two Angora cats. The President ordered her body to be cremated and that the ashes be given a decent burial, and by his direction the cats were forwarded to the White House.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Wall Street, Dec. 22.—The stock market opened steady, with Amalgamated Copper at 113¾. American Smelting 151¼, Anaconda 28⅝. Atchison 102⅝, Baltimore & Ohio 120, Canadian 96, Colorado Fuel & Iron 56¼. Erie 43⅝, Great Northern preferred 260, New York Central 130⅝, Northern Pacific 196½, Pennsylvania 137⅝, Reading 138½, Rock Island 29⅝, St. Paul 152½, Southern Railway 32⅝, Southern Pacific 93⅝, Union Pacific 182, United States Steel 48⅛, United States Steel preferred 101.

10—No price changes of importance resulted from the opening dealings in stocks. Transactions were insignificant and most of the market leaders were unchanged from last night. The rise of a point in Delaware & Hudson and a decline of ⅜ in Canadian Pacific were the only fluctuations in excess of a small fraction.

11—Aside from a few unimportant advances which were subsequently lost, the market began to sag almost immediately after business began. As on yesterday, Reading showed the initial weakness which soon became widespread. A good deal of Union Pacific and other standard railroad stocks were sold, but the specialties were virtually ignored. Reading ran off 3¼, Virginia Iron 2¾, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Northwestern, Canadian Pacific, Pacific Coast & Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie preferred, 1¼ to 1½, and St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville and St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred 1.

Closing—Money on call nominal, no loans; time loans, steady; prime mercantile paper, 6 @ 6½ per cent; sterling exchange, easier at $4.83.15 @ $4.83.20 for demand and at $4.77.75 @ $4.78 for 60 day bills; posted rates $4.79½ @ 80 and $4.84½ @ 5; commercial bills, $4.77½ @ ¾; bar silver, 60½; Mexican dollars, 50¾; government bonds, easy; railroad bonds, heavy. The market closed active and weak at the lowest. Reading fell to successively lower levels, with a temporary rally of a point at one time. The small loan contraction shown by the bank statement was a disappointment and prices broke with violence. Reading's extreme decline was 5¾, Great Northern preferred 8, Northern Pacific 6½, Northwestern 4, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific 2⅞ to 2½, and others 1 to 1¾.

A VERY important material for proper brewing is the yeast used. The brewers of Hanley's Peerless Ale obtain their yeast from original pure cultures by a process which eliminates all undesirable growths. The result of this is a perfect fermentation which determines the character of the ale. Just as the quality of the bread depends largely on the yeast used, so does the quality of ale, which is made in a very similar manner. After the yeast has performed its work, it is entirely eliminated by the proper ageing and care taken of the ale after fermentation.

RE-ELECTED COMMODORE.

Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt Still Head of New York Yacht Club—List of Officers Chosen.

Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt was re-elected commodore of the New York Yacht Club for the coming year at the annual meeting held at the club house in New York last evening. The vice commodore elected is Mr. Arthur Curtiss James, owner of auxiliary, brigantine-rigged yacht Aloha, in which he has made several trans-Atlantic cruises. The rear commodore elected is Mr. F. F. Brewster, the owner of racing schooner yacht Elmina, which has a splendid record to her credit.

The retiring vice commodore, Mr. Henry Waters, held that position four years, and the retiring rear commodore, Mr. Seymour L. Husted, Jr., was elected one year ago.

Commodore Vanderbilt presided, and of the 125 members present 42 were yacht owners. After the routine business had been disposed of the question of scantling was discussed and resulted in the appointment of W. B. Duncan, Jr., Charles L. Poor, H. L. B. Parsons, Walter C. Kerr and Henry Maxwell as a committee to investigate the methods in vogue and report back to the club.

Naval members have presented the club with 21 models of the different types of naval vessels, from the Bonhomme Richard to battleship Connecticut. These will be added to from time to time as occasion demands. The committee in charge of this work was composed of Naval Constructor William J. Baxter, Commander Harry H. Hosley, Commander Aaron Ward, Lieutenant Commander Orton P. Jackson and others. The club thanked the donors for their generous gift.

The commodore, it was announced, will appoint a committee, to prepare resolutions upon the deaths of Commodore S. Nicholson Kane and General Philip Schuyler.

Twenty-one new members were elected.

The full list of officers elected is as follows:

Commodore—Cornelius Vanderbilt.
Vice Commodore—Arthur Curtis James.
Rear Commodore—Frederick F. Brewster.
Secretary—George A. Cormack.
Treasurer—Tarrant Putnam.
Measurer—Charles Lane Poor.
Regatta Committee—H. De B. Parsons, Ernest E. Lorillard and Walter C. Kerr.
House Committee—Thomas A. Bronson, Hunter Wykes and George A. Freeman.
Committee on Admission—Henry C. Ward, Edward F. Whitney, George A. Adee, Alexander S. Cochran and George A. Armour.
Library Committee—Grenville Kane, Nelson Mack and James A. Metcalf.
Model Committee—A. Bradice Hunt, Paul Eve Stevenson and James Douglas Sparkman.
Committee on Club Stations and Anchorages—Station No. 1, William H. Thomas; station No. 2, Henry H. Rogers; station No. 3, Cord Meyer; station No. 4, Augustus C. Tyler; station No. 5, Charles Lane Poor; station No. 6, Maximilian Agassiz; station No. 7, Alfred C. Harrison; station No. 8, Henry C. Ward; station No. 9, William Lampan Bull; station No. 10, J. NOW IS THE TIME TO WIDEN.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

For the good of the whole city, now is the time to widen Thames street between the Boston Store and Long wharf, before Mr. Joseph Haire puts up his new store. The city government should do as in other cities—condemn the land and widen the street. It could have been done at small expense before the Lappin Store was built, as most of the owners of the property were very generous in their offers. Moving the building back on a line with the Boston Store will relieve the congestion.

Wm. K. Covell.

Newport, R. I., Dec. 22, 1906.

It is thought that the holiday mail this year from the Old World to the New will break the record. Six transatlantic liners, all with a goodly share of the Christmas mail, should arrive here before December 25. A rough estimate of the total holiday mail is put at about 12,000 sacks.

PLAYED A ROUGH GAME.

Team from Holy Cross College Meets Defeat.

Loses in Basket Ball to St. Joseph Holy Name—Tigers Wins from Portsmouth.

The Holy Cross basket ball players played the St. Joseph Holy Name team Friday night, losing 24 to 11, and as had been expected the game was rough. This year Holy Cross has no regular basket ball team, but the men who played here last night would form the team if there were one. The players did not seem at the finish to be in the finest form, due probably to lack of steady practice, though the football players should have been in good condition. However, despite all the roughing, Holy Name was in better shape, both as to condition and score, at the end of the game.

It seems wrong to call the game basket ball, but that is what it was supposed to be. It was a "slam bang" proposition from start to finish and how the players escaped without serious injury is a wonder. At the start one of the visitors jumped on J. Sullivan and it looked as though he was out of business, but he was going again in a short while. In the second half Conners, who had been playing hard, trying everything, had worked himself to a practical standstill and took a vacation to recuperate, though he did not come back in the best of condition and was nearly out at the close. The game showed that the Holy Name team is considerably stronger than it was last year and the visitors received as rugged treatment as they gave. It could not well be otherwise, for in a small hall with men going fast there are bound to be hard bumps.

The visitors wore a uniform that was almost the same as that of the Holy Name, about the only difference being the initials on the breast of the jerseys of the local team. This, however, did not bother much so long as the players faced each other.

The attendance was not what it has been in the past at the Holy Name games. Probably the Christmas shopping affected it, but the players did not notice whether the seats were filled or not after they started. Before the start a number of Newport boys who are, or have been at Holy Cross, gave the visiting team the college cheer and throughout the game encouraged them; other spectators wanted to fight them before the game was over, when they did some things.

In the first half Mr. Flaherty of Holy Cross officiated, and gave every chance for the players to rough it in clinches, expecting that the visitors would win in a roughing game. The score at the end of the half was 10-5 for Holy Name. In the second half Mr. Williams made a good impression by his prompt action in clinches stopping the roughing as much as possible. The score in this half was 11-6 for Holy Name. With a little luck in shooting for baskets the Holy Name could very nearly have doubled its score, while the visitors had few chances to better theirs. The back work of the locals was greatly superior to that of the visitors and the visiting forwards had few good chances. In defensive and offensive work combined Waters and J. Sullivan were strong, and two long shots from near centre, both counting, made by the latter in the second, were the spectacular scoring features of the game. All the local men played strongly and there was an evident absence of any attempt at individual play, the success of the team being what was looked for, and the ball being passed to whoever had the best chance to shoot. The line-up was as follows:

St Joseph Holy Name.	Holy Cross.
McManus, l. f.	l. f., Connor
Waters, r. f.	r. f., Stevens
Palmer, c.	c., Casey
J. Sullivan, l. b.	l. b., Dowd
F. Sullivan, r. b.	r. b., Lynch

Score, Holy Name 24, Holy Cross 11; baskets, McManus 1, Waters 2, J. Sullivan 5, F. Sullivan 1; Connors 1, Stevens 1, Casey 1, Lynch 1; from fouls, McManus 6, Stevens 3; missed foul tries, McManus 4, Stevens 5; missed field tries, Holy Name 55, Holy Cross 35; officials, Flaherty and Williams.

The team of the Portsmouth Athletic Club visited the armory Friday night and were taken into camp by the Tigers, 31 to 6, in a match in which, in the second half, the Tigers completely smothered the visitors, playing rings around them and giving a better exhibition of the game than they had before shown. In the first half blocking was the feature and the score was close, 4-3, in favor of the Tigers. The line-up was as follows:

Tigers.	Portsmouth.
Koschny, l. f.	l. f., Dring
Brown, r. f.	r. f., Anthony
Brack, c.	c., Chase
Volgt, l. b.	l. b., Manchester
Carlisle, r. b.	r. b., Sherman

Score, Tigers 31, Portsmouth 6; baskets, Koschny 1, Brown 2, Brack 6, Volgt 1, Carlisle 5, Anthony 2, Chase 1; from foul, Carlisle; referee, McMahon.

Tonight the Naval Reserves will have the team of the St. Joseph Lyceum of New York as opponents. The visitors come recommended by the players of both St. Peters and Xavier teams, and should give a good exhibition of the game.

SALE OF THE WEETAMOE.

Mr. Henry F. Lippitt has sold his sloop yacht Weetamoe to Mr. Charles Lane Poor, the newly elected measurer of the New York Yacht Club. The Weetamoe has always been a familiar figure as a racer and cruiser. Mr. Poor contemplates an extended Eastern cruise on the yacht next summer. She is laid up at New London and will be fitted out early in the season.

Mr. Lippitt is the owner of one of the new 57-footers' building at the Herreshoffs'.

THE PRICE OF ICE.

Perhaps it has been noted that the ponds have had natural ice of some thickness and that some of those who use ice even in cold weather have been able to get it for the cost of cutting it. In fact, some of the milkmen on the island have cut good supplies for their private icehouses. But the average citizen has lost interest in ice; what he is now thinking about is coal. Under all these circumstances it is not at all surprising to hear that the price of ice, by the ton, has dropped to $8. It is known that ice has been sold to certain parties for less than this, under certain conditions. It is also known that in New Bedford, owing to the establishment of an artificial plant, ice has been sold for some time at $3 per ton wholesale and 25 cents per hundred pounds retail.

AUCTION SALES.

Mortgagee's Sale.

WHEREAS at a foreclosure sale of the premises hereinafter described, said premises were struck off to the Bearhaven Realty Company under the terms and conditions of said sale; and whereas said Bearhaven Realty Company have made default by failing to pay the balance due and take the deed of said premises;

Now by reason of said default and BY VIRTUE of the power of sale contained in a certain Mortgage Deed made by John H. Glover of the City and State of New York, (with Helen LeRoy Glover, his wife, in release of dower) to the Savings Bank of Newport, a corporation legally created under the laws of the State of Rhode Island and located at Newport in said State, dated September 9, 1889, and recorded in Volume 23 of the Mortgages Land Evidence of said Newport at pages 331 and 335, breach of the condition of said mortgage having been made and still existing; the said Mortgagee will sell at public auction in front of the Banking Rooms of the said Mortgagee, 232 Thames Street in said Newport, on Monday, the 31st day of December, A. D. 1906, at 12 o'clock noon, all the right, title and interest which said John H. Glover and Helen LeRoy Glover had at the time of the execution of said Mortgage and did by said Mortgage convey in or to all the lands and property conveyed by the said Glover to John Edward Addicks by deed dated September 15, 1900, and the buildings and improvements on said Addicks land, and the privileges, easements, and appurtenances thereof, whether granted, created, mentioned or referred to in or by said deed or however granted or created; which premises so conveyed to said Addicks consist of two lots of land with the buildings and improvements thereon, and the appurtenances thereof as aforesaid and divided from each other by portions of Beacon Hill Road, one lot containing 4 and 434-1000 acres, and the other containing 23 and 499-1000 acres, more or less, and said two lots taken together being bounded Northwesterly on Helena Road, in said Newport, Northerly on Beacon Hill Road, Easterly on land of the heirs of Charles S. Bradley, deceased, Southeasterly on Brenton Road and Southwesterly on land now or late of Mary Augusta King, as more particularly shown in and by said deed to Addicks and the plat annexed thereto—said property above described being all the property that was granted by said mortgage and which has not heretofore been released from the lien of said Mortgage which said Mortgage deed is hereby made part hereof.

And the said Mortgagee hereby gives notice that it intends to bid for said property at said sale thereof.
